

Bijoux de Famille

/ An ode to families

To everyone's delight, the engaging and lovable Charles Lafortune returns to host a second season of the popular variety show Bijoux de Famille.

Every week, three guests from various artistic backgrounds are featured in a comedy-club setting. Some are comedians, some aren't, but all of them have to perform family-themed stand-up routines, which are followed by lively group discussions.

As a new twist this year, a band will be on hand to highlight some of our guests' emotional moments.

Taped before a live audience, Bijoux de Famille is a warm and authentic show that examines and celebrates all aspects of family life.

Confessions, laughs and deep emotions are on display for those who want to associate with the universal and inspiring theme of family.
